

Rochester Homes for Sale

Rochester Homes for Sale Currently there are approximately a little over 1,000 available homes or houses for sale in Rochester, MN. They range from split level homes, multi-level houses, 2 story homes, ranch or rambler or even small hobby farms. Minnesota – specifically the southern part of mn, has an enriched and diverse group of homes for sale. If your looking to buy a home that’s for sale in Rochester or any of the surrounding towns, I would be happy to help you. I would represent you as a Buyers Agent – meaning I will work and represent you and your interests in your new home purchase.

As I metnion the whole process is 100% FREE to you! Buyers pay nothing, I get paid by the sellers.

That means you pay me nothing! No brokers fees, No administration fees, No percentages! I get paid by the seller… not you.

Better yet – as your high tech licensed realtor, I will even set up a complete portal web site that you can track which homes you like or which ones you don’t like. You will have access to every house for sale that is in the mls system, all neatly organized that you can view in the privacy of your own.

One more great thing as you seek the homes for sale in the Rochester area – I will set up an Auto Email Alert system. This means that if any house comes up for sale in Rochester that fits what you are looking for than you will automatically get an email from me describing what it is. This also works for any home that you are looking at and they have a price reduction – you will automatically get an email showing the new price of that house.
